Solstice Celebration!

Come to our annual Humanist celebration of the season following elections on Monday, December 19! Please bring a dish for the pot luck and an item for the Silent Auction. We will offer a varied program devised to favor every taste, including the traditional reading of Lois Woodrow's "Ode To The Tilt," then joining in a rousing Solstice song or two, followed by some special music, including a flute selection by Mickey Koth, a cello piece by Charlotte Moulyn, and a short medley from "Fiddler on the Roof" by June and David Schafer.

Join us for some merriment on Monday, December 19, at 7:30 p.m. at 700 Hartford Turnpike in Hamden!

We Consider Joining the Secular Coalition for Connecticut

Last year Sean Faircloth spoke to us about the Secular Coalition for America (SCA), which lobbies the US Congress on behalf of separation of church and state and works to increase public recognition and respect for citizens with a naturalistic worldview. Their efforts are essential to us as members of the Humanist Association of Connecticut.

An SCA affiliate, to be called the Secular Coalition for Connecticut, is now being formed to focus on state and local issues. Our organization has been invited to join it and send two representatives to serve on its Board.

Two of our members, Doug Peary and Dan Blinn, have volunteered for these positions. Please consider the invitation and be prepared to vote on December 19 on the questions of membership in the Secular Coalition for Connecticut and nominees to represent us on its Board.

Conversations: Debating Religion

Intelligence Squared U.S. (intelligencesquaredus.org) presents Oxford-style debates. The premise of the November 15, 2011 debate was, "The World Would Be Better Off Without Religion." The four-person panel included for the motion: Matthew Chapman, A.C. Grayling and against the motion: Dinesh D'Souza and Rabbi David Wolpe. On Saturday, January 7, at 2:30 p.m. at 700 Hartford Turnpike in Hamden, we will watch the opening arguments and discuss the proposition ourselves. Refreshments will be served.
