Supreme Court Review: What Is In Store?

The Supreme Court closed out last year's term with high drama, upholding most of the provisions of the Affordable Care Act on the last day. It is now October, when the Supreme Court begins its new term. Will the Court do away with racial preferences altogether when it considers the constitutionality of affirmative action in a case involving the University of Texas? Many court-watchers expect the Court to accept cases involving the Voting Rights Act, and there are a few cases involving gay marriage that appear headed for a decision this term. Other interesting cases involve drug-sniffing dogs. Do police need a warrant to use a drug-sniffing dog to identify a "grow house?" And, if a dog indicates that there is contraband in a car, does that give the police the right to search the car and its passengers? These are just some of the cases that will be decided by next summer.

Dan Blinn, an HAC member and an attorney admitted to practice before the Supreme Court, will discuss the current composition of the Supreme Court and will address recent and upcoming Supreme Court cases at our October monthly meeting.

Conversations: The Uprising of '34

Barely publicized and rarely acknowledged in history books, the General Textile Strike of 1934 remains a stirring yet amazingly forgotten chapter in Southern history. Famed documentarian George Stoney and independent filmmakers Judith Helfand and Susanne Rostock spent nearly six years tracking down and interviewing surviving strikers and their relatives in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, and North and South Carolina. The result is the film, The Uprising of '34, which we will view at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 6 at 700 Hartford Turnpike in Hamden. Refreshments will be served.

Book Discussion: "Galápagos"

Kurt Vonnegut's "Galápagos" takes the reader back one million years, to A.D. 1986. A simple vacation cruise suddenly becomes an evolutionary journey. Thanks to an apocalypse, a small group of survivors stranded on the Galápagos Islands are about to become the progenitors of a brave, new, and totally different human race. In this inimitable novel, America's master satirist looks at our world and shows us all that is sadly, madly awry—and all that is worth saving.

Join us at 700 Hartford Turnpike, Hamden, on Saturday, October 20, at 3:00 p.m. Copies of the novel are available in public libraries.

Hartford Area Dinner

Our guest speaker for the Hartford-area dinner will be State Representative Prasad Srinivasan. Rep. Srinivasan was involved in the founding of Connecticut's first Hindu Temple in Middletown, CT. He will share his experience as a state representative who does not follow an Abrahamic religion. Join us October 23 at Hanafin's Pub, 21 Rankin Road, Glastonbury, CT. We'll meet for drinks and socializing at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:00 p.m.
